

Sarah Oros

sarah@oros.org • 607.731.7581 • <http://sarah.oros.org>

Education

Rochester Institute of Technology (RIT)
Bachelor of Science Degree, School of Photographic Arts and Sciences
Biomedical Photographic Communications - GPA 3.98

Experience

Geospatial Image Processor - Pictometry - October 2013 - Present

Post-processed aerial images, evaluated imagery for quality checks and geospatial positioning accuracy, built large-scale mosaic products for customers

Freelance Mineral and Gemstone Photographer – 2013 – Present

Photography of mineral and gemstone specimens for sale and/or insurance purposes

Photographer-in-Residence - Paleontological Research Institution - Summer 2012

Provided photographic services for scientific documentation of specimens, and exhibit photography for Museum of the Earth and Cayuga Nature Center, photographed the Zinsmeister Antarctica Fossil Collection

Teaching Assistant - Rochester Institute of Technology - 2011-2013

Materials and Processes of Photography I-III, Applications of Scientific Photography I-II

Skills and Studies

Extensive knowledge of the following types of photography specializations:

Macro, Photomicrography, Forensic, Medical, Scanning Electron Microscopy

Software experience with Adobe Creative Suite:

Illustrator, InDesign, Photoshop, Lightroom, Dreamweaver

Microsoft Programs:

Excel, Word, Outlook, PowerPoint

Miscellaneous Imaging Software Programs:

Helicon Focus, Zerene Stacker, Aperture

Design for Web and Print

Comfortable with either Mac OS X or Windows

Publications and Exhibitions

Editor of the Biomedical Photographic Communications Bulletin - 2013

Solo photography exhibit at Museum of the Earth and Titus Gallery

Featured Photographer in Palagems newsletter and FotogFocus

Published photography in Micscape, Biomedical Photographic Communications Bulletin: Cover Photo, Fall & Winter 2012

References upon request